
Information Guide for Erasmus+ Students

Dear Erasmus+ student,

Every new academic year offers new opportunities for academic and personal growth, and we are looking forward to encouraging you along this exciting journey of learning and discovery.

We are happy to welcome you to this information package of our degree programmes and hope you find something of your interest.

Each year at Constanta Maritime University we offer a wide range of Bachelor, Master and Doctoral programmes in Navigation and Naval Transport, and Naval Electromechanics, covering all fields of study in: Navigation and Maritime and River Transport, and Marine Engineering. These study programmes are internationally renowned, comparable and professionally attractive, which provides for good and varied international mobility of students and staff. The study programmes are interdisciplinary or they offer combination between disciplines and professional fields, so many more options are open for individual choices of study.

Students are at the heart of our community and the motivation of our faculties and staff, as well. With a student body of more than 5.000, we are encouraged to learn from each other and from the variety of possibilities, offered by study, social, cultural, recreational, sports and extracurricular activities in our diverse academic community. Our commitment to academic excellence and diversity of activities is confirmed by the international university rankings and many other national and international recognitions of study and research achievements of our academic and research community.

In order to help you start your study at Constanta Maritime University, we have prepared information that is specially designed to help you acquire language and other skills, expertise in your chosen field of study as well as the opportunity to familiarize yourself with the culture, history and Romania in general. Tutors will be happy to assist you as you integrate into student life.

In addition to pursuing the high quality academic offering and delivery of the degree programmes provided by Constanta Maritime University, you are encouraged to get involved in numerous extracurricular activities to reinforce various types of skills and competencies you will need to start and develop your career. Constanta Maritime University Students' League will happily provide you with guidance. To get the most from this great endeavour, alongside the study and extracurricular activities, you are encouraged to spend quality time with fellow students and contribute to diversity and development of the university community.

This set of guides is designed specifically to help you choose well and make the right decision in selecting your degree programme at Constanta Maritime University.

We are inviting you to start your academic path with us, boost you personal and professional career options and become a valuable member of our proud and creative academic community.

Looking forward to welcoming you at Constanta Maritime University,

Assoc. Prof. Carmen Chirea-Ungureanu, PhD
